

UNION AND AMERICAN.

WHEN THE SEA GIVES UP HER DEAD.

BY J. H. HUNTER.

When morn's bright, and the leaves break forth, My soul awakes and cries,
For I know there is down in the far, far north, Where they lie, the ones I love so true,
And the long day, and the long night,
And the long day, and the long night,
And the long day, and the long night,
And the long day, and the long night,

Oh! my love, and my own, my love,
And my love, and my own, my love,
And my love, and my own, my love,
And my love, and my own, my love,

Then didst thou fly to the ship and sail, To the island and the shore,
And thou didst not come back,
And thou didst not come back,
And thou didst not come back,
And thou didst not come back,

We shall walk no more through the sodden plain,
We shall walk no more through the sodden plain,
We shall walk no more through the sodden plain,
We shall walk no more through the sodden plain,

When the last farewell was said,
When the last farewell was said,
When the last farewell was said,
When the last farewell was said,

But I shall see thee, and I shall know thee,
But I shall see thee, and I shall know thee,
But I shall see thee, and I shall know thee,
But I shall see thee, and I shall know thee,

Presidents and Religion.

To what Churches they were Attached and where they worshipped in Washington.

A New York correspondent of a Boston paper writes as follows:

The fact that Gen. Grant passed a Sabbath at West Point, and did not go to church, though the Post-Opinionist has been commented on, has been commented on by the press generally. It is somewhat singular fact that as far as it is known no President of the United States since the days of Washington has been a communicant in a church. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the established religion of Virginia. John Quincy Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the established religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the established religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was

a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

religion of Virginia. John Adams was a member of the Episcopal Church, the

established religion of Virginia. John

Adams was a member of the Episcopal

Church, the established religion of

Virginia. John Adams was a member

of the Episcopal Church, the established

A FAST NEW YORKER STOPPED.

A Little Matter of $15,000

Breaks into a Trip to the Sunny Isle of Cuba.

A Wall Street Broker in the Hands of the Memphis

Police.

From the Memphis Avalanche, Nov. 28.

A brilliant young Wall Street broker who left New York last Monday, was arrested at this city last Friday as a defaulter to the amount of $15,000 in United States bonds. His partner, who was with him, was also arrested, and the facts in this interesting but not happy affair are briefly as follows: Last Wednesday Colonel A. P. Burdett, acting

Superintendent of the Metropolitan Police, received a dispatch from Heiler &

Sons, brokers in Wall Street, New York, giving a description of one Augustus Marsh, of the firm of Temple & Marsh, also Wall Street brokers. The dispatch stated that he had fraudulently obtained $15,000 in United States five-twenty from them, and that a reward of $5,000 was offered for his apprehension. The case was at once given to detectives Hastings and McGuire, who watched every train and boat and stranger with sleepless vigilance. They knew if the young defaulter, as he was styled, could escape the net-work of Eastern detectives they were sure of him, for Memphis is the Mecca to which every embezzler, pick-pocket, thief, and fortune teller comes in his lifetime, to make a pilgrimage.

The pilgrim came. Last Thursday, when the moon train arrived at the Charleston depot, a stylish-looking young stranger came on board, and got off on the opposite side of the platform. That "hurry him," in the language of a distinguished detective then had on New York shoes, and hurried him. Then, instead of going to a first class hotel and registering his name, he went to Gaston's restaurant, and seated himself at a table. The detectives watched him carefully, but with eyes that photographed his most casual glance or motion. He went to the Commercial Hotel, not the most prominent institution on Jefferson street, and registered himself as one of the Harris family. His baggage consisted of a few trunks, and he had with him a light overcoat, and such as gentlemen wear about cities.

He was permitted to sleep quietly that night, but on Friday morning his tracks were dogged by a lynx-eyed but apparently unconcerned detective. This could not go on long. At noon he was making his arrangements to go to New Orleans. His trunks were packed, and he made his way to the Charleston depot, intending to take the train for New Orleans. He was on the platform, and then turned his face toward New Orleans.

The time had come. Hastings approached him, and in the blandest manner apologized for his presumption, but really he would like to cultivate his acquaintance with a man of his description.

Young Marsh smiled, and then profoundly surprised, of course, and for a few moments played his hand well.

The telegraphic description said the defaulter was a young man, with a diamond stud in his shirt bosom. These were wanting to make up the man. Hastings again begged his pardon, gesturing that he was a private detective, and told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

told him he was a private detective, and

THE NASHVILLE

UNION & AMERICAN.

AS RE-ORGANIZED

FOR 1868:

A Political, News, Commercial and Family Journal.

THE PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE

Now is the Time to Subscribe.

Subscription Price Reduced Still

Lower.

The Union and American, and the Advertiser, published weekly in this city, were consolidated on the 25th of August, 1868, and will be published under the title of the NASHVILLE

UNION AND AMERICAN.

Daily, per Annum, $5.00

Per Week, per Annum, 2.00

Our Remittance Weekly

Shorter Periods correspondingly

Low.

Daily for the Campaign, $2.00

Per Week, for the Campaign, .75

Weekly, for the Campaign, .25

Clubs of 10, each, 2.00

Clubs of 20, each, 3.00

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE.

The NASHVILLE UNION AND AMERICAN and the ADVERTISER, by consolidating these papers, propose to make the Union and American the best and cheapest journal published in this city, and to make it the most valuable and useful of the papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the

papers of the city, by the publication

of the most valuable and useful of the